MinipassionMini.com

In the late 40's Charles Cooper and his son John started the Cooper Car Company from a small BMC garage in Surbiton, to design and construct racing cars.

They started with the Cooper 500, an innovative racer with a 500cc rear mounted engine, and with drivers like Stirling Moss won many championships.

Orders flooded in from all over the world and the company expanded rapidly. Cooper cars were being raced by all of the great front line drivers – Brabham, McLaren, Fangio, Hawthorn, Salvadori, Surtees, Stewart and Rindt.

Successful in Formula III and sports car racing, Coopers went on to race in Formula II. Then in 1958, Stirling Moss won the Argentine Formula I Grand Prix in a Cooper Climax.

Cooper Cars became the world's largest builder of pure-bred racing cars and were Formula I World Champions twice – in 1959 and 1960. The era of the rear engined racing car, pioneered by Coopers, was definitely here to stay

Cooper's Championship winning drivers were already using Minis as road cars and they realised the racing potential this little car would have, with more power. Cooper fitted the Mini with a 1000cc Formula Junior engine, basically the same BMC A-series unit used in the Mini. They approached the Chairman of BMC with the prototype.

Initially unsure of selling the 1,000 cars needed to be made to qualify the model for racing, BMC eventually went on to produce 150,000 Mini Coopers.

The Mini Cooper was successful in many forms of saloon car racing and rallying and production lasted until 1971.

The "Grand Prix" on the Rover stand 1994

In the mid 1980's the Mini Cooper began to regain popularity with a new generation of enthusiasts, mainly from Japan.

Rover Japan were keen to capitalise on this interest and commissioned John Cooper to build a new 1275cc Mini Cooper. The completed car was sent to Japan, meeting with immediate approval. Rover GB however were not convinced the time was right to reintroduce the little legend.

Japan now looked to us for 1000cc tuning kits for Mini Mayfairs etc. These were sent to Japan in elaborate wooden boxes and over 1,500 were sold.

Prompted by this success Rover met with John and Mike Cooper to discuss the supplying of UK and European Markets with the Cooper Conversion Kits. Rover extensively tested the conversion and gave full backing and warranty for the project. A Special Edition Series the 'Mini Racing' was launched by Rover to further give the Mini the 'Cooper' look, our kit featuring as an optional extra available through all Rover Dealers.

The next step was the return of the 1275cc Mini Cooper. First in carburettor form in 1990 – the car became an instant success. At this time John Cooper launched the 'S' Pack to compliment the new Cooper. The 1.3 injection Cooper followed, fitted with a 3 way cat to keep up with modern emissions. It conformed perfectly and of course the 'Si' pack was produced to give this car an extra boost.

The story continues with the new 1997 Mini Cooper S now available direct from John Cooper.

See next spread for details

The new 1997 Mini Cooper S is in every way as exciting as the Cooper S was in the 1960's. But now, an incredible 35 years on, this amazing little car boasts many of today's safety features. Now equipped as standard with a driver's airbag, pre-tension seat belts and high strength steel door beams, this latest Cooper S fulfils all the criteria of a modern '90's car.

Two New Models

1997 brings you 2 new exciting Cooper S models, available direct and exclusively from John Cooper Garages, the Cooper S Touring and the Cooper S Sport 5.

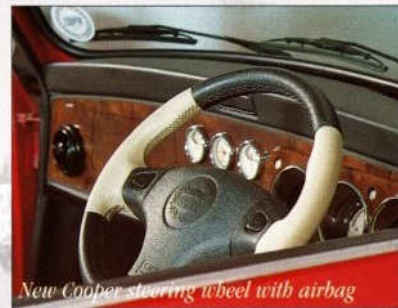

Two different models but both still giving immense driving pleasure and excitement. These models come with all the latest safety features and a host of additional equipment as standard.

Luxury front reclining seats are fitted with a tilt forward mechanism allowing easy access to the rear. Bur walnut dashboard, leather steering wheel, alloy wheels, these are just a few of the exciting features found on our new Cooper S range.

Now with twin point fuel injection and many more other engineering developments, the 1997 Mini Cooper S is truly a brilliant achievement in small car packaging. Both our Cooper S Touring and Sport 5 can be ordered in a wide range of exterior paint colours with 12 exciting colours to choose from. Standard Monaco cloth trim gives a light and airy feeling to the car. But as an option, you can choose either the racy black leather seating or one of the range of classic leather colours. (Please ask our Sales Team for all the exterior and interior colour options.)

Both the Touring and the Sport 5 come with our latest developments for the renowned 'A' Series engine.

With twin point fuel injection, and many engineering changes and enhancements, John Cooper Garages are proud to boast a power output exceeding 85 BHP and a torque figure which is over 20% up on the standard Rover Cooper. Together with the immense hike in performance, improvements have been made to the handling and suspension.

For the 1997 Cooper S Touring the fitting of 165 Dunlop tyres makes handling electric. Of course our Sport 5 is fitted with Rover's Sports Pack with its massive 175 x 50 x 13 tyres and 13 x 6 alloy wheels.

The most exciting news for our '97 Mini Cooper S Sport 5 is the addition of a Jack Knight 5 speed helical gearbox. For the first time you can purchase a Mini Cooper S with a 5 speed gearbox as standard. This gearbox is reliably proven and many years of testing and improvements have taken place. In fact Cooper's relationship with Jack Knight spans many years, from the early days when Jack Knight supplied gearboxes for the Cooper Racing Teams. The combination of the extra power and 5 speed gearbox ensures that the Cooper S Sport 5 really is a thrill a minute.

Apart from the luxury walnut dashboard, the new Cooper S comes with many other features as standard, such as wood cappings and door pulls which grace the interior whilst John Cooper alloy door furniture ensures the sporty exterior is carried through to the interior.

There are many other features including door sill edgings etched with the John Cooper name, together with an alloy John Cooper fuel cap, and much, much more.

When you buy a new Cooper S from Cooper Garages we will order a new Cooper 1.3i from Rover, register it as new in the owner's name and convert the new car to a full Cooper S specification either Touring or Sport 5. All of this work is carried out at John Cooper Garages and the development work has been carefully scrutinised by Rover. All the conversion work is covered by John Cooper's warranty with Rover's warranty unaffected for the remainder of the car. Each car is individually built, tried and tested and comes with its own numbered Chassis Plate for authenticity. Cooper badging and decals ensure people recognise that you are driving these exciting new John Cooper models.

Mini Cooper S Touring

The Mini Cooper S Touring, whilst sharing the powerful 85 horse power engine retains Rover's 4 speed gearbox with its 2.7 gearbox final drive, giving you smooth and relaxing long distance driving and together with the gains in the torque, ensures a fast get away when required.
